TVERC Training Programme 2019

Would you like to volunteer to help survey habitats or species in Oxfordshire and Berkshire but lack the skills?

TVERC is running three training courses this year to help train volunteers to improve their identification and recording skills. These courses are run by expert ecologists and are aimed at beginners. Tea and coffee are provided on all the courses but you will need to bring your own lunch.

Prices: £60 individual / £120 professional / £30 student*

*There are limited student places available on each course, given on a first come first served basis. Proof of student status will be required at time of booking.

INTRODUCTION TO GIS TRAINER: DR DAN CARPENTER

Sat 8th June 10am-4pm Thatcham Nature Discovery Centre

Geographic Information Systems (GIS) are systems for storing, managing Participants will need to bring their own and analysing spatial data. This course is designed to introduce you to GIS laptop with a copy of QGIS (which is and spatial data and enable you to display, manipulate and interrogate freely available) already installed on it. spatial data. You will learn about different types of spatial data, how to create simple maps, how to create and edit spatial data and how to carry If you do not have a laptop, please contact out some simple analytical tasks.

This course is ideal for students and biological recorders looking for a basic introduction to GIS. This course will use the free open source QGIS system. A full set of course notes and course data will be provided.

us in advance as we have a very limited supply of laptops for this course.

HEDGEROW SURVEYING TRAINER: JULIE KERANS

This is an introductory course about hedgerows and how to survey them. Please bring suitable footwear It will highlight the legal protection that some hedgerows have and outdoor clothing. Indoor sessions are describe how important hedgerows are identified. There will be a field held in agricultural building so bring warm session with the opportunity to survey a hedge and look for some of the clothes. typical wildflowers associated with Oxfordshire hedges.

Books and equipment will be supplied but if you have your own hand lens or botanical key please bring it along on the day.

Sat 14th September 10am-4pm Chimney Meadows Nature Reserve

Car parking is 10 min walk to the building.

OTTER ECOLOGY AND SURVEYING TRAINER: DR ELLEN LEE

Introduction to the ecology of otters, covering their distribution, diet and RSPB Office in Beckley for morning behaviour. You will learn about key field signs to look out for and the session. In afternoon short drive to methods used to survey for otters.

The outdoor session will include a walk at Otmoor Nature Reserve Bring suitable outdoor clothing and looking for signs of otters.

Sat 12th October 10am-4pm RSPB Office, Beckley and Otmoor Nature Reserve

Otmoor Nature Reserve.

footwear.

www.tverc.org/cms/content/tverc-training