This course is ideal for anyone who is working in or around water, including in a supervisory role. It will give you the skills to work safely and to make informed decisions. You will gain certification for attending this course. Level 1 is for working/supervising near water but with a definite intention not to get in and Level 2 is 'environment specific' (river and still water) recognising a greater likelihood of getting closer to or in water but with a definite intention stay within standing depth. There will be a short self-study module to complete in advance of the course. If you have a current first aid certificate please bring this with you.

Only £5 (normally £30). For ages 16-25 years. Please bring lunch.
