

19TH NATIONAL BIODIVERSITY NETWORK CONFERENCE

LUNCHTIME DISPLAYS:

Association of Local Environmental Records Centres

Tom Hunt

Come and find out more about local environmental records centres and what ALERC does for them.

www.alerc.org.uk

BID-REX

Mel Gillings and Martin Horlock

BID-REX connects key decision makers with high quality biodiversity data. Working with NBN Trust, ALERC and other partners we have developed five key actions for 2019-20.

www.interregeurope.eu/bid-rex

British Ecological Society – Applied Ecology Resources

Dr. Erika Newton

The British Ecological Society (BES) is a not-for-profit organisation dedicated to the advancement of ecological science. The BES is launching a project to share management-relevant information, Applied Ecology Resources.

www.britishecologicalsociety.org/publications/applied-ecology-resources/

British Trust for Ornithology

Teresa Frost, Matt Baxter and Dave Turvey

BTO manages UK and global bird recording schemes and increasingly provides online data collection, survey management and reporting systems for other taxa to partner organisations.

www.bto.org

The Beautiful Burial Ground Project

Liam Taylor and Harriet Carty

Caring for God's Acre is a non-religious charity dedicated to conserving and celebrating the burial grounds found across Britain in almost every community.

www.caringforgodsacre.org.uk

FSC Biodiversity Training and Biolinks

Sue Townsend

FSC team has selected course information, identification guides and BioLinks training pathways, FSC Identikit online resources and the developing online training directory. Come and see!

www.fscbiodiversity.uk

Citizen science online communities for biodiversity: iSpotnature.org and Treezilla.org

Mike Dodd, Rachel Redford and Phil Wheeler

Expand your interest in wildlife, through www.iSpotnature.org where you can help others identify what they find, build your identification skills and learn more. Or join an ambitious effort to map trees across Britain with www.Treezilla.org : the monster map of Trees!

www.iSpotnature.org / www.treezilla.org

Brilliant Butterflies at The Angela Marmont Centre for UK Biodiversity

Chris Raper and Katy Potts

A chalk grassland restoration and monitoring project, funded by the Dream Fund Award from the People's Postcode Lottery. Partners: Natural History Museum, London Wildlife Trust and Butterfly Conservation.

www.nhm.ac.uk/discover/news/2019/september/brilliant-butterflies-project-launched-to-restore-rare-grassland.html

NBN Atlas Help Desk

Christine Johnston, Katie Oliver and Sophia Ratcliffe

If you have any queries about using the NBN Atlas or any suggestions for future development, please come and meet the team to discuss things further.

nbnatlas.org/

National Forum for Biological Recording

Graham Walley, Elaine Wright (supported by Teresa Frost and Martin Harvey)

NFBR brings together suppliers and managers of biodiversity information, provides a forum for discussion and sharing experience, and promotes and represents the biological recording community in partnerships and networks.

www.nfbr.org.uk

National Trust Nature Dashboard: Playing our part

Sharolyn Parnham

The Nature Dashboard tracks the progress in how we play our part in restoring a healthy, beautiful, natural environment by recording habitat actions and condition.

nt.global.ssl.fastly.net/documents/national-trust-playing-our-part.pdf

SBIF

Scottish Biodiversity
Information Forum

SBIF Review: developing a sustainable biodiversity data network for Scotland

Rachel Tierney

Following the call for a sustainable biodiversity data network in Scotland, the SBIF team is working across Scotland to realise this vision. Come and learn more about this innovative project and how the SBIF vision will support you.

nbn.org.uk/about-us/where-we-are/in-scotland/the-sbif-review/

State of Nature

Daniel Hayhow and Kate Slater

Following the State of Nature reports in 2013 and 2016, professionals from more than 70 wildlife organisations have joined with government agencies to present the clearest picture to date of how nature is faring.

www.nbn.org.uk/stateofnature2019

WILDside project

Rosalind Johnston and Ryan Clark

Lessons learnt for next generation wildlife recorder engagement from evaluation of Northamptonshire's WILDside Heritage Lottery Fund supported Northamptonshire Biodiversity Record Centre & Wildlife Trust BCN project.

www.northantsbrc.org.uk/Wildside

Woodmeadow Trust

Rosalind Forbes Adam

Woodmeadow Trust is a pioneering charity taking practical action for nature and people by creating 'woodmeadow' and recording the building of a woodmeadow ecosystem.

www.woodmeadowtrust.org.uk
